

English Comprehension:

Roald Dahl

Roald Dahl lived in a quiet village called Missenden in England. It was here where he wrote all his stories for kids. In spring 2005, the Roald Dahl museum was opened in Missenden for the first time. The museum tells the story of his life and family.

When he was in school, Roald and his friends used to test new chocolate bars for Cadbury's Chocolate Factory. He loved chocolate so much that he even wrote the book "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory". When he finished writing the book he gave it to his nephew to read. His nephew didn't like it and said it was "rotten and boring" , so Roald had to write it all over again.

Roald Dahl and his dog "Chopper" loved smarties and everyday Chopper would eat four smarties after lunch and supper. He hardly ever ate dog food. Roald Dahl's other favourite food was prawns and he ate them for lunch every day.

Roald Dahl believed the most glorious treats were invented between the years 1930 and 1937. These were Aero, Crunchies, Maltesers, Kit Kat, Mars Bars and Quality Streets. Roald loved chocolate so much that he even thought it should be a subject in school.
